The Association of Rural Desenvolvemento Terras do Deza — the Spanish partner of V.E.R.NE. project organised a large public event: a conference entitled "Tourism, Rural Development and Healthy Food". The event was supported by the DISTANCE UNIVERSITY (UNED) and the COUNCIL of Lalin. Technical seminars were organised, with 60 participants during the 3-day event (from 10 to 12 April 2013).

The themes were varied, there were speeches on local products and specialty food and its internationalization: Rooster Cooked Corral and Lalin's typical dish (cocido), healthy gourmet, industrial tourism, Tourist Quality, mycological tourism, health and hygienic quality and the selfcontrol of the local industries, rural development and how we can link all these products and / or business to the European Cultural routes, as well as the importance of specific training in these subjects.

Paula Suanzes, representative of Association of Rural Desenvolvemento Terras do Deza, presented the V.E.R.NE. project to the audience and encouraged to get familiar with the V.E.R.NE. training course.

The course will be available on V.E.R.NE. website www.verne-project.blogspot.com.
